Why Every Home Needs Vedavani

Modern schooling teaches knowledge, but not values. A generation grows up able to earn and unable to belong — and the cost shows up as parents left in care homes, as depression, as youth without purpose.

Vedavani answers that quietly and daily. It brings Vedic wisdom, culture and heritage back into the house: it chants the mantras, lights the deepam, fumes the dhoop, performs the arathy, and teaches — without anyone needing to remember, arrange or operate anything. The rhythm of the temple, kept at home, every single day.

1. The Daily Puja, Performed Automatically

Vedavani is installed once in the family shrine and then simply does its duty. It performs the puja at the auspicious sandhya periods on its own, with no human intervention required on any given day.

Sandhya Schedule	Performs the puja at dawn and dusk, and at any other times the family sets.
Mantra Chanting	Om, Gayatri, Vedic mantras, stotras, prayers and bhajans, chanted at the set times.
Sacred Deepam	Lights the lamp automatically at the start of the puja.

Dhoopam	Fumes sambrani dhoop, creating a temple-like ambience in the room.
Arathy	Performs the arathy as part of the scheduled programme.
Family's Own Audio	The household's own recordings, chants and favourite devotional tracks can be used.
Simple Operation	Set it once. Minimal intervention afterwards — it keeps the routine itself.

2. Five Therapies, Working Together

Each element of the traditional puja carries a benefit that modern practice recognises independently. Vedavani delivers all five, every day, without effort.

Mantra Therapy	Om and Gayatri chanted at dawn and dusk — rewiring thought towards peace and purpose.
Chroma Therapy	The lit deepam, sustaining devotion and cultural connection through daily sight and ritual.
Aroma Therapy	Sambrani dhoop, settling the room and the mind into a serene, temple-like state.
Music Therapy	Bhajans and devotional music, lifting mood and drawing the family together.
Wisdom Therapy	Vedanathi AI — press to talk and hear Advaita's answer in plain words.

3. Vedanathi AI — Ancient Wisdom, On Demand

Beyond the scheduled puja, Vedavani will talk. Press to ask, and Vedanathi AI answers from the Advaita tradition — the Gita, the Ramayana, the Mahabharata, the Upanishads — in language a child or a grandparent can follow.

Its central teaching is the one the tradition has always held: that you are Brahman itself, and that you craft your own destiny. Respect all as Brahman.

“When our false perception is corrected, misery also ends.” — Sankaracharya

4. Follow Your Favourite Temples

Vedavani is not sealed off from the world. Through the Meghavani voice broadcast network it can receive live and recorded programmes from the temples, ashrams and mutts the family follows — so the temple bell, the prayers, the satsang and the Guruji's own voice reach the house directly.

Live Broadcasts	Satsangs and special programmes as they happen at the temple.
Recorded Programmes	The institution's own devotional recordings, played at home.
Temple Schedules	Keeps the household aligned with the schedule of a maha kshetra or ashram.
Festival Content	Special programmes for festivals and important spiritual occasions.

5. Benefits You Will Experience

01	Spiritual Growth	Daily devotion through automated chanting and ritual — a spiritual environment maintained at home.
02	Mental Health	Stress reduced through soothing chants; calmer mood, better focus and emotional stability.
03	Cultural Connection	A living link to traditional ritual and heritage, kept up without effort.

8. Where Vedavani Sits

THE VISION

Every home a temple. Every dawn a prayer. Every child raised within the tradition rather than at a distance from it.

EVERY HOME NEEDS IT.
